Software Science Inc
Skill Set Matrix

Software Science is an integrated software development company consisting of 12 full-time professional programmers and several graphic artists. The matrix below provides a summary of the team's background and expertise. Staff persons are listed by initials across the matrix, and areas of expertise are listed down the matrix, grouped into broad categories. A checkmark in any cell signifies that the programmer has as a minimum productive real-world experience in that area and potentially is an expert in that area. As of 2007, the company offers a combined experience in software development of 250 person-years. Whatever the needs of your project, the team at Software Science is ready and able to design, develop and maintain a custom solution for you.
